Licensing and Design

Suzan Lind has spent her life immersed in creativity, both as an artist herself and as a dedicated advocate for other artists. As the founder of an art licensing agency, she represents a diverse group of talented creators, helping bring their work to life on products worldwide. Her passion for art extends beyond business—it's a lifelong calling.

Suzan also has a heart for service. She has volunteered with non-profits supporting disadvantaged teens and, in 2010, traveled to Haiti after the devastating earthquake. Deeply moved by the experience, she later published a book to raise funds for children's education in the country.

In addition to serving on the board of Echoes of the Forest, Suzan is also a board member of the Rodney Gould Foundation, which provides scholarships to students pursuing university studies. Through both organizations, she is committed to fostering creativity, education, and opportunities for those who need them most.

Suzan believes that art and nature share a unique ability to inspire, heal, and connect people across cultures and generations. She is honored to serve on the board of Echoes of the Forest, where storytelling, creativity, and the natural world intertwine to preserve the voices of the forest and those who call it home.
